

Communication And Presence Assessment

Every great leader possesses the ability to connect with, communicate to, and influence an audience. Learn who the “A” players are in your organization and which future leaders demonstrate these critical leadership skills.

What is a Communication And Presence Assessment?

Communication And Presence (CAP) Assessments are detailed reports analyzing and comparing individuals on their body language, vocal quality, executive presence, and engagement; predictors of leadership and communication success.

CAP Assessments will allow you to:

- Identify and quickly assess your rising leaders and high potentials
- Measure employee communication effectiveness across your organization
- Identify internal candidates for promotions or future leadership
- Assess the communication and executive presence of external job candidates

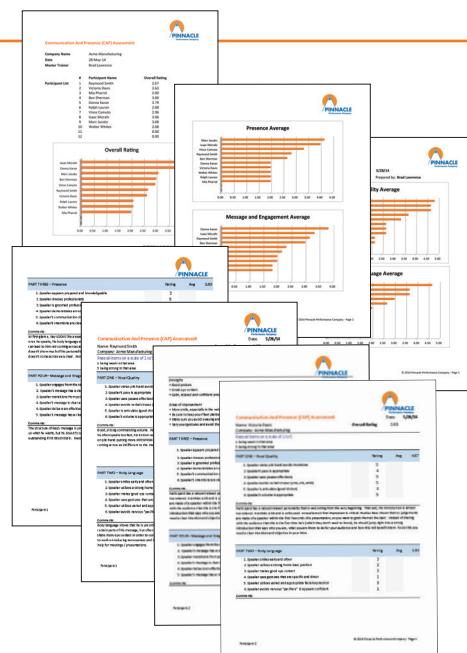

How does it work?

The CAP Assessment tool can be used as a pre or post training tool, as part of a blended workshop, or even remotely, via video upload.

Who provides the analysis?

The same world-class trainers who deliver Pinnacle’s award-winning workshops across the globe provide the analysis and detailed reports.

Through on-site workshops, Virtual Coaching, or in-person private coaching sessions, Pinnacle has the tools to ensure the growth and success of your most valuable resources.

“Pinnacle virtually assessed the presentation skills of over 200 of our rising leaders and provided comprehensive analysis and coaching to each of them. This was an excellent virtual coaching approach and the outcome was well worth the investment.”
